Wimmera Biodiversity Seminar
"nature's canvas"
Dimboola Secondary College,
Thursday September 6, 2012
9.30am – 9pm

The arts have a natural link with our bushland, it can motivate, relax, inspire and even cause grief, inspiring many great art works.

The 15th Annual Wimmera Biodiversity Seminar is exploring the links between art and biodiversity.

There will be writers, artists and photographers presenting during the day, focussing on insects, birds, frogs, native seed and much more.

This seminar is a popular annual activity for people involved in landcare, farming, schools, agencies and anyone participating in, or delivering biodiversity education.

The program includes a full day of presentations, a local bushland field trip and dinner.

The dinner speaker is novelist Carrie Tiffany. Carrie is the editor of the Victorian Landcare Magazine, writes fiction and teaches in the creative writing program at RMIT.

Presenters this year include:

Amanda Blake-Sutterby, artist

"a bird in the bush"

Robert Baird, Director of Biosis

"the curious naturalist"

Neville Bonney, South Australian seeds guru

"seduction in the bush"

Chris Tzaros, Bird life Australia (photographer)

"woodland birds the next generation"

Michael Shiel, artist

"Considering place: artistic responses to site"

Dennis Crawford, Graphic Science (photographer)

"my life without insects"

Evelyn Nicholson, DSE
